President as Peacemaker. President Roosevelt has again intervened as a peacemaker between the coal miners and operators and as a result of a letter addressed by him to John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, a National convention of the U. M. W. of A. will be held in Indianapolis March 15 to try to reach an agreement with the soft coal operators in the hope of averting the threatened strike of April 1 in the bituminous coal field. The operators have agreed to the meeting. The President's letter to Mr. Mitchell follows:

White House, Washington, Feb. 24. Sir.—I note with very great concern the failure of your late convention on the joint inter-state agreement to come to a basis of settlement of the bituminous mining scale of wages. You, in this business, have enjoyed a great industrial peace for many years, thanks to the joint trade agreement that has resulted in the action of your successive conventions.

A strike such as is threatened on April 1 is a menace to the peace and general welfare of the country, I urge you to make a further effort to avoid such a calamity. You and Mr. Robbins are joint Chairmen of the Trade Agreement Committee of the National Civic Federation, and it seems to me that this imposes additional reason why each of you should join in making a further effort. Very respectfully, THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Returning Favorites. It rarely occurs that a theatrical company on their first appearance here creates so favorable an impression that there is a popular demand for a return engagement. Such, however, is true in the case of the Burke-McCann Company which appeared at the Reynolds opera house a few weeks ago. The company throughout gave good satisfaction and the demand for a return engagement is by no means an advertising stunt on the part of the local managers. The repertoire will be entirely different from that produced during their recent engagement unless there is a general demand for a reproduction of either one of the three popular bills which pleased so well before.

The Burke-McCann Co. will be at the Reynolds opera house three nights beginning Monday, March 5th, and they play at popular prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents. Seats on sale at the Stoke drug store Saturday, March 3.
